

DISC GOLF RULES & REGULATIONS

- ▷ OBJECT: Complete the course with the lowest score possible (least number of throws)
- ▷ PLAY: A minimum of one disc per player is needed. The first throw at each hole must be from the designated tee area. Each throw following the first must be from where the disc lands. Each hole is finished once each player's disc lands in the basket.
- ▷ THROW ORDER: Randomly choose player throwing order and write down the names on the scorecard. The first player listed throws first, and so on. All other throws are made by the player furthest from the basket. On all remaining holes, the player with the lowest score on the previous hole throws first.
- ▷ SCORING: Upon completion of each hole, each player should record their score. A player's score is the total number of throws plus penalties. After all 18 holes, a player's final score is determined by calculating the difference between total throws and par.
- ▷ PENALTIES: Each of the following situations results in a one throw penalty:
 - 1) Disc comes to rest in a tree.
 - 2) Disc goes out of bounds and is unplayable.
 - 3) A falling putt.
